The chair of environmental and resource economics at the institute for economics of the Christian-Albrechts-Universität zu Kiel is looking for a student assistant (m/f/d)

from 1st of July 2020 with a 30 hour per month contract. Our offer especially addresses students in the midst of their bachelor studies or at the beginning of their master studies.

The assistant will support our teaching and research activities:
- Support the preparation of classes for the winter term (teaching material, problem sheets), particularly for „Resource Economics“ at Master level;
- From beginning of the winter term, co-organisation of classes
- Support the research activities of the chair, particularly in climate change economics and game theory.

In addition to a pleasant and constructive working atmosphere, we offer insights into the institute’s activities, contribution to building the chair, and a close involvement in the group’s research projects.

Applications with the usual documents (short motivation, CV, copy of certificates and grading) should be sent to hasenpusch@economics.uni-kiel.de as soon as possible, preferably by June 1st (in English or German). Applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Please send any questions to Ulrike Kornek (kornek@mcc-berlin.net), who will head the chair from July 1st 2020.
